

Continue the story...

It was a freezing winter! I met my friends in the park and we played some football by the lake which was covered with gleaming frost. Suddenly, the ball flew over my head and landed, with a crack, on the middle of the ice-sheet. I had to get it back! Slowly I edged my way out, across the slippery surface and reached out towards it...

Continue the story...

It was a freezing winter! I met my friends in the park and we played some football by the lake which was covered with gleaming frost. Suddenly, the ball flew over my head and landed, with a crack, on the middle of the ice-sheet. I had to get it back! Slowly I edged my way out, across the slippery surface and reached out towards it...

Continue the story...

It was a freezing winter! I met my friends in the park and we played some football by the lake which was covered with gleaming frost. Suddenly, the ball flew over my head and landed, with a crack, on the middle of the ice-sheet. I had to get it back! Slowly I edged my way out, across the slippery surface and reached out towards it...

Continue the story...

It was a freezing winter! I met my friends in the park and we played some football by the lake which was covered with gleaming frost. Suddenly, the ball flew over my head and landed, with a crack, on the middle of the ice-sheet. I had to get it back! Slowly I edged my way out, across the slippery surface and reached out towards it...