

Continue the story...

So, a few months back, I had won a competition to cook for the Royal Family. Here I was, in a professional kitchen, with a team assigned to help me produce a five-course feast for some of the world's most discerning palates. The only problem was, I didn't have a clue how to cook!

Continue the story...

So, a few months back, I had won a competition to cook for the Royal Family. Here I was, in a professional kitchen, with a team assigned to help me produce a five-course feast for some of the world's most discerning palates. The only problem was, I didn't have a clue how to cook!

Continue the story...

So, a few months back, I had won a competition to cook for the Royal Family. Here I was, in a professional kitchen, with a team assigned to help me produce a five-course feast for some of the world's most discerning palates. The only problem was, I didn't have a clue how to cook!

Continue the story...

So, a few months back, I had won a competition to cook for the Royal Family. Here I was, in a professional kitchen, with a team assigned to help me produce a five-course feast for some of the world's most discerning palates. The only problem was, I didn't have a clue how to cook!